

Maryville College Bulletin

ALUMNI NUMBER

Vol. XXIV

DECEMBER, 1925

No. 4

Entered May 24, 1904, at Maryville, Tennessee, as second-class mail matter. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized February 10, 1919.

A RECORD YEAR

In the record of the opening days last fall, the statement was made that Maryville now has ample facilities for absorbing three hundred new Freshmen annually. That number has already been reached and passed. Last year the Freshman class totalled two hundred and sixty-six. At the very opening of the present year, the enrollment of Freshmen leaped to 307, with the increment of the second semester still in prospect. But these sturdy young men and young women, newly graduated from 147 high schools in twenty-eight states and counties, have all been absorbed and are adding their energies to the busy and happy student life of college hill. Although chickens should not be counted before they are hatched, and Sophomores should not be too definitely numbered before they cease to be Freshmen, one may safely indulge the thought of a probable two hundred in next year's Sophomore class.

The contribution of Maryville's local schools—the Maryville High, the Polytechnic, and the final graduating class of the now defunct Preparatory School—is seventy-four, more than twenty-four per cent of the Freshman class. It is interesting to observe, also, the fact that of the one hundred and thirty-one distinctions achieved by students in all the classes last year, and recognized by the awarding of "M's" in athletics, Pi Kappa Delta keys in intercollegiate debates, prizes in oratorical or other contests, and graduation honors for high scholarship, eighteen were won by local students.

During the opening days in September, five registrars, each registering one of the five student groups—Senior, Junior, Sophomore, Freshman, and Special—made it possible for every student then present to be fully adjusted to his duties within the first three days. And this was effected in spite of the unprecedented, enervating heat that prevailed, and the presence of ninety more students than were in attendance at the corresponding date last year! The enrollment has already reached a total of 674, a new high record, and will probably go to seven hundred for the year, all college and nothing but college! Of the three hundred and thirty-seven students enrolled for the first time, twenty-eight are in the Sophomore and Junior classes, and three are in the Senior class.

Maryville no longer needs larger Freshman classes, although some further increase is doubtless inevitable, and will not be unwelcome. Alma Mater is now asking her loyal sons and daughters to cooperate with the college officers in their continued efforts to round out the coveted enrollment of seven hundred and fifty selected students, and still further to raise the college standards. To this end let us, first, continue to gather together all worthy students; second, make special efforts to persuade valedictorians and others of the highest attainments in the high school to enter the Freshman class; third, seek the most desirable graduates of high-grade junior colleges to enter the Junior class; and, fourth, bend every energy to keep in college until their final graduation day, that large number of students, capable of winning their bachelor's degree with credit to the College and benefit to themselves, who, nevertheless, are now annually falling by the wayside at every round of the four-years' course.

A STIRRING EXPERIENCE IN CHINA

By J. Edward Kidder

I think perhaps the following experience would be of interest to the readers of the Maryville alumni bulletin. This experience, which I had last fall, shows the suddenness with which military movements in China are likely to develop.

I had been away from home nearly two weeks on one of my country trips, when, one Saturday afternoon, I entered a county seat, thirty miles to the south of Chenchow, and near the Kawngtung border. I found the people very much agitated over a threatened invasion. A certain commander had led his soldiers to the southern border of Hunan, near the city I have just mentioned, and served notice on the provincial troops stationed there that he would enter the city on the following day, and within four days would occupy Chenchow.

The next day we held services as planned, and in the afternoon I went on to visit a chapel seven miles in the country to the east. So far the rumors of invasion had not materialized.

But the next morning at daybreak we heard the sound of brisk rifle firing in the direction of the city, and knew that the invasion had taken place. Presently the firing ceased but we had no means of knowing the outcome. If the attackers were successful, they would at once proceed along the wide horse-road which led straight north to Chenchow.

Next morning about seven o'clock I started for Chenchow, taking a road that would bring me into the main road at a point about ten miles north of the town that had been attacked. About eleven o'clock I, and my two carriers, came to the top of a hill where heavy firing could be plainly heard along the main road about three miles ahead of us. There was a small village near by and groups of people were on the hill-tops listening to the firing and watching troops pass along the roads in the distance.

There was nothing for me to do except to stay in the village all night. But I had a hard time convincing the old lady who kept the only inn in the place that I was neither a spy nor a military official of either side. She stubbornly refused me, making all kinds of excuses, and even denied that she kept an inn at all. Had it not been for the intercession in my behalf of an old man who was a Christian, I would have had to sleep in the open that night.

The firing in the distance ahead of us kept up intermittently until nine o'clock; but the next morning when I awoke early everything was quiet. I supposed that the Kwangtung troops had beaten back the Hunanese, and that I would be able to walk into Chenchow on their trail. So, after breakfast, I started, with my two carriers, and arrived at a village on the main road about eight o'clock. To my surprise I found the village crowded with Kwangtung soldiers who had come up during the night. Although there was bustle and excitement on every hand, the column as a whole did not seem to be moving forward.

A brigadier-general was quartered in the town, and when I called upon him he received me as an old friend. He had lived in our town several years before. He informed me that the Hunan troops had not retreated to Chenchow, but were still holding the pass where the fighting had taken place the day before. The main road being blocked, I was determined to get to Chenchow by another route, if possible, since the next day was Thanksgiving.

The general gave me his card, as a pass through his lines, and we set off along a small path bearing to the west, which put a low range of hills between us and the scene of battle. Firing broke out afresh just as we were passing along the opposite side of the hill; but by fast walking we soon left the danger zone behind and had no more difficulty until we entered Chenchow.

The trip home by our rough detour was nearly thirty miles, and night overtook us about two miles from town. It is a serious affair to be out after dark without a light in China, but we found a kind old farmer who gave us a bundle of bark about three feet long, such as the Chinese often use for a torch.

As I was walking along swinging the torch in front of me to light the road for myself and carriers, suddenly, out of the inky darkness came a chorus of voices commanding me to halt and turn back. One of the carriers dropped his load and started to run. I called out that I was a foreigner and a member of the Presbyterian mission; but the soldiers only shouted more insistently. Chills ran down my spine as I listened to the clicking magazines of half a dozen rifles, for I knew that in the glare of my own torch I was an easy target. I continued to call and to explain my purposes and at last received the command to come forward. A closer view revealed my identity and I passed on unmolested to anxious friends and a real Thanksgiving.

MARRIAGES AMONG ALUMNI

Miss Stella Love McCall, '22, to Walter Murray, June 12, 1925, at the home of her parents. Their present address is 1708 Highland Avenue, Knoxville, Tennessee.

Miss Ruth Elizabeth Newton, '23, to James Porter Hendrick, June 11, 1925, at her home at Harriman, Tennessee. Their present address is Box 209, Clinton Blvd., Jackson, Mississippi, where Mr. Hendrick is teaching and coaching.

Miss Rena Mae Anderson, '25, to Arthur Fox, June 4, 1925, at Knoxville, Tennessee. Their present address is Harriman, Tennessee.

Miss Lucile Caroline Carter, '21, to Noah R. Simmons, June 10, 1925, at Long Beach, California.

Miss Lela Agnes Ware, '21, to William Henry Moffitt, June 5, 1925. Their present address is Box 153, Lexington, North Carolina.

Roy Ritter Anderson, '18, to Miss Gladys Pauline Russell, June 30, 1925, at Fordyce, Arkansas. Their present address is Cleveland, Tennessee, where Mr. Anderson is principal of the high school.

Lee Roy Elmer Middleton, '21, to Miss Mary Lucretia McSpadden, '23, June 30, 1925, at Riverside, California. Their present address is 418 S. Sbadia Road, Fullerton, California.

Miss Mary Kate Lewis, '20, to John Emory Duskin, Jr., October, 1924. Their present address is 100 Mulberry St., Montgomery, Alabama.

Lamar Silsby Wilson, '21, to Miss Mary Vance Hudgins, June 24, 1925, at Las Cruces, New Mexico. President Wilson officiated at the marriage. Their present address is Las Cruces, New Mexico.

George Dewey Howell, '22, to Miss Sarah Ann Kiskadden, '24, June 13, 1925, at Bellevue, Pennsylvania. Their present address is College Station, Maryville, Tennessee. Mr. Howell is head of the Department of Chemistry at Maryville College.

Fount Beverly Robinson, '22, to Miss Mildred Elizabeth Kimball, '22. Their present address is 1017 Villa Place, Nashville, Tennessee.

Harry Lones Owen, '24, to Miss Maurine Alda Hague, July 18, 1925, at Harriman, Tennessee. Their present address is Clinton, Tennessee.

Miss Ethel Sharp, '25, to D. Clay Keyker, July 18, 1925, at New York City. Their present address is Sevierville, Tennessee, where both are teaching.

Forrest David Brown, '22, to Miss Mary Dorothy Stivers, '24, June 10, 1925, at Chattanooga, Tennessee. Their present address is Y.M.C.A., State College, Ames, Iowa, where Mr. Brown is Student Secretary of the Y.M.C.A.

Kenneth Houston Howard, '25, to Miss Ruth Spivey, August 16, 1925, at her home in Henderson, Texas. Their present address is Scottsboro, Alabama, where both are teaching.

Miss Annie Elizabeth Moore, '22, to Mr. Pittelko, in August, 1925. Their present address is 142 N. Birchwood St., Louisville, Kentucky.

Ernest M. Reeves, '14, to Miss Ellie Garrison, September 30, 1925, at Derita, North Carolina. Their present address is 3031 12th Avenue, Los Angeles, California.

Miss Ethel Burchfield, '19, to Dr. Finis L. Cooper, July 8, 1925, at San Francisco, California. Their present address is Las Encinas, Pasadena, California.

Miss Mae Awanda Davis, '24, to W. Eianza Henson, August 19, 1925, at her home at Ooltewah, Tennessee. Their present address is Ooltewah, Tennessee..

Miss Mary Margaret Robison, '24, to James J. Bevan, June 30, 1925, at her home at Normandy, Tennessee. Their present address is 137 Overton Place, Knoxville, Tennessee.

Herman Luther Caton, '17, to Miss Myrtle Margaret Johnson, November 17, 1925, at Blackstone, Virginia. Their present address is Apartment 205, 65 M Street, N.W., Washington, D.C.

PROFESSOR HUNTER IS NOW DOCTOR HUNTER

Alumni will be glad to know that Professor Edwin Ray Hunter, '14, is back at Maryville as head of the Department of English Language and Literature. He has been absent on leave for one year during which time he finished the work for the Ph.D. degree at the University of Chicago. But Professor Hunter did more than win the doctor's degree, though that in itself is a worthy distinction; he was graduated with the rank of "Cum Laude" in recognition of his superior scholarship. Thus he has won a double distinction for himself and for the College. The subject of his doctor's thesis is "The American Colloquial Idiom, 1830-1860."

LET THE ALUMNI OFFICE SERVE YOU

An alumnus recently sent the alumni office a request for the present address of some friends of his. He prefaced his request by saying that the persons whose addresses he desired were special friends but that he had somehow failed to keep in touch with them, and asked that the information be sent "if it is not too much trouble."

This leads to the remark that such service is never "too much trouble." As a matter of fact, such service is a part of the business of the alumni office, for which every alumnus has paid who pays his dues, and it is hoped that it will be commanded whenever it is needed. If this office can serve alumni in any way whatever it is both our duty and pleasure to do it, so far as the time and means at our disposal will allow. No doubt there are other alumni who ought to obtain the addresses of old friends and send them a friendly letter.

Recently paragraphs of a letter, received from an alumnus in China, were sent all the classmates of the writer. These paragraphs contained a brief account of some important work with which the writer is connected and expressed his desire to hear from college friends at home. It was a simple matter to send this on, and so to reestablish some friendly connections. Classmates of the writer have expressed their appreciation for the information; and beyond question the writer himself will be pleased with the heartening letters he receives from college friends as a result.

The alumni office is at your service. Can it serve you in the interest of old friendships?

FOOTBALL

Robert Carr, Managing Editor, Highland Echo

} Note: The Thanksgiving game with Concord State Normal, which was { } played after this was written, resulted in a 17 to 7 victory for Maryville. }

Last year when Robert Thrower, Jean McMurray, Doris Musick, and Carl Schmidt graduated, Maryville sustained a severe loss in the ranks of her gridiron warriors. Everyone knew that these were good men and some were disposed to think there would be none to fill their places. As a consequence, it was thought that Maryville's football team for the present year would be comparatively weak.

But all such pessimistic forebodings have been gloriously dispelled by the brilliant record that has been made. Out of a total of eight games played, six have been won. The two that have been lost have been played against State University teams. Both of the games were lost by narrow margins.

Only one more game remains to be played. On Thanksgiving day our team will meet the strong Concord State Normal team from West Virginia. The game will be played on the home field and hopes are running high for another great victory.

The opening game of the season was played on September 26 with the University of Kentucky on their own field. Our men played a brilliant game throughout, and the fact that they held up the little end of a 13 to 6 score was not a defeat for them. Stone, Maryville's star center, was out of the game on account of an injured arm. The game was featured by a brilliant fifty yard run by John Crawford. So far this has been the best run of the season. Enthusiasm ran high in Maryville over the gallant fight our men put up. Kentucky's record since that time has justified our pride in having held her to so close a score.

The second engagement of the season was played on the home field against Mars Hill College. It resulted in a 54 to 0 victory for Maryville.

Next came our annual clash with Tennessee. This event is always an important one to the home crowds and this year proved no exception. Almost the entire school—as well as a large part of the townspeople—turned out and journeyed to Knoxville to witness the fracas. Every man in the game fought like a demon until the last whistle blew. Not a man lay down on the job. Although Tennessee scored thirteen points and prevented Maryville from scoring, wearers and supporters of the Orange and Garnet were by no means dismayed. All knew that it was not the weakness of our team but the strength of Tennessee's team that was responsible for the score. The brilliant record that Tennessee has made since that time has proved the wisdom of that conclusion. Every man on the field distinguished himself. Perhaps Hamilton, Holland, Byrd, Shores, and Cartwright did the most outstanding work.

Then as a snap between the Tennessee game and the King game, Maryville's warriors met Weaver College on the home field. The North Carolina team was vastly inferior and put up a weak fight. Holland, McCall, and Byrd did splendid work. Twelve touchdowns were scored against the Weaverites. The highest score of the season—83 to 0—was run up against this team.

On October 26 occurred Maryville's great victory over King. The team journeyed to Bristol and trimmed King to the tune of 10 to 0 on Tenneva Field. And it is said that the score does not adequately show the superiority of Maryville over King. George Crawford was Maryville's brightest star. Other luminaries were Hamilton, McCall, Clemens, and Stone.

Encouraged by this success, the team began working hard for the trying ordeal of three hard games in eight days. On November 7, Maryville met and defeated the strong Georgetown College team. The game was played on Wilson Field and proved one of the best of the season. Georgetown had a strong team but was simply outclassed by a stronger one. Three touchdowns were piled up against them. In Captain Garrett, Georgetown had one of the best tackles that has ever appeared on Maryville's field. Cartwright was the individual star of Maryville's team. Shores, George Crawford, Holland, and Hamilton also did splendid work.

Next came Cumberland University whose team was met, played, and defeated on Wilson Field on Armistice Day. The game was under the auspices of the American Legion and was attended by a large crowd. Cumberland had a good team but was out-played by Maryville from the first. Cumberland's quarterback, Singleton, was one of the best punters ever seen on Maryville's grid. He it was who was responsible for the two touchdowns scored by Cumberland. The game developed into an aerial duel which Maryville won by a twenty-eight to thirteen score. McCall, Clemens, Hamilton, and Captain Gamble did brilliant work for Maryville.

The last game played was with Lincoln Memorial University on November 14. The two teams met at Middlesboro, Kentucky. L.M.U. has a better team this year than she has had for years, and for several weeks had been concentrating every effort on winning the Maryville game. In view of this fact, it is not surprising that the Highlanders were held to a fourteen to seven victory.

Up to the present time Maryville has played eight games; won six and lost two. In the eight games our team has rolled up a score of 216 points while the combined opponents have scored only forty-six points. This is a record of which Maryville as a whole as well as each individual Maryvillian is justly proud.

Notwithstanding the fact that another hard game remains on the schedule, we feel warranted in saying that the present football season is one of the very best Maryville College has ever had. We know we have no mean rivals in the Concord grid warriors, but knowing our team as we do, we look forward to the game with assurance.

Each man on the team deserves especial credit for the successful season. In Captain Gamble the team has a leader than whom there could be no better, And as for coaches, even the University of Tennessee players envy us. And finally, no little credit is due to our splendid corps of cheer leaders who have done their utmost through thick and thin. Every individual Maryvillian has done his very best to help the team on to glorious achievement. Maryville has made a record this season which will always live in the hearts of her children.

REPRESENTATIVES OF THE SECOND, THIRD, AND FOURTH GENERATIONS AT MARYVILLE

The group photograph printed here is one of the most interesting pictures secured here in many a day. It shows the members of the student body and faculty who are representatives of more than one generation of students at Maryville. This large group is an indication of the abiding faith which the sons and daughters of Maryville have in the College. For a man to attend an institution himself is one thing; for his children and his children's children after him to be intrusted to that same institution during their most critical and formative years is quite another. When graduates and former students in large numbers send their own children to the school they attended themselves they advertise their faith in that school in no uncertain terms. The school must have kept faith with those best qualified to judge it to merit such long continued loyalty. Moreover, it must have kept pace with the times because college men and women do not regard a thing as good enough for their children simply because it was good enough for them, and, unless they feel that an institution is prepared to give their children a training that will equip them for life, a sense of college loyalty is not apt to cause them to send their children to the school.

SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF MARYVILLE HAVE TOLD OF THE
AND DAUGHTERS

Maryville is justly proud of this large group of her children's children. Below is given a list of their names and the names of the members of their immediate family who preceded them here. Alumni are invited to read over this list and then, having studied the picture carefully, to fit names and faces together by the resemblance they show to the members of their families who are known. The names are given in three groups as follows:

1. Students

Raymond Anderson, Senior, and Robert Anderson, Freshman. Father, MillardCreyton Anderson, student one year, 1887-1888.

Theo Belk, Freshman. Father Theodore Belk, student six years, 1893-1899.

Mary Esther Bennett, Freshman. Mother, Mary Louisa Bennett, student two years, 1903-1905.

Ruth Blake. Freshman. Father, Charles Herron Blake, student two years, 1901-1903.

Annette Booth, Freshman, and Louise Booth, Sophomore. Mother, Maud Bryan Booth, student seven years, 1896-1903. Grandmother, Lucy C. Tipton Bryan, student one year, 1867-1868.

James M. Brown, Senior, Father, John F. Brown, student ten years, 1870-1880. Mother, Sarah McIlvaine Brown, student six years, 1779-1885. Grandfather, William Beard Brown, student three years 1833-1836.

Salmon Brown, Senior. Stepmother, Ella Thomas Brown, student one year, 1899-1900.

Gladys Caldwell, Sophomore, and Nellie Caldwell, Freshman. Father, Theodore A. Caldwell, student two years, 1886 - 1888. Mother, Della Anderson Caldwell, student five years between 1891 and 1897.

BLESSINGS TO THEIR SONS AND TO THEIR SON'S SONS
AFTER THEM

Harry Caldwell, Sophomore. Mother, Elizabeth Penny Caldwell, student two years between 1896 and 1899.

Ada Belle Campbell, Freshman, and Elizabeth Campbell, Freshman. Father, Andrew Lamar Campbell, student seven years, 1883-1890; graduated 1890.

Constance Eirl Castile, Freshman. Father, Daniel Castile, student two years between 1898 and 1901.

George Crawford, Sophomore, and John C. Crawford, Junior. Father, Judge John Calvin Crawford, L.L.B., student twelve years, 1885-1897; graduated 1897. Mother, Maud Farnham Crawford, student three years, 1894-1897. Grandfather, Rev. Gideon Stebbins White Crawford, student five years, 1866-1871; graduated 1871.

Roberta R. Creswell, Sophomore. Grandfather, Robert Johnson Creswell, date in school not known. Great-grandfather, Thomas Creswell, date when in school not known.

Maude Davis, Junior, and Margaret Davis, Freshman. Father, George Davis, student one year, 1892-1893.

Eugene Dunn, Freshman. Mother, Mary Alice Bird Dunn, student two years, 1896-1898.

Rosaline Edmondson, Sophomore. Father, Demarcus M. Edmondson, student three years, 1877-1880.

Anne Ellis, Sophomore, and Ruth Ellis, Senior. Father, Horace Lee Ellis, student seven years between 1889 and 1898; graduated 1898. Mother, Cordelia Young Ellis, student six years, 1892-1898; graduated 1898. Grandfather, N. B. Ellis, student about 1854.

Eleanor Franklin, Junior, and Wilbur Franklin, Sophomore. Father, Rev. Robert O. Franklin, student three years between 1899 and 1903; graduated 1903. Mother, Grace Mitchell Franklin, student one year, 1902-1903.

Katherine L. Franklin, Senior. Father, Sam Horace Franklin, student one year, 1888-1889.

Luke I. Foster, Freshman. Mother, Orlena Florence Caldwell Foster, student four years between 1891 and 1897. Grandfather, William Lowry Caldwell, student six years, probably, 1842-1848.

Ruth Frow, Freshman. Father, John Marshall (Jack) Frow, student two years, 1880-1882. Mother, Jennie P. Chandler Frow, student two years, 1886-1888.

Raymond Gamble, Freshman. Father, Frank Gamble, student one year, 1891-1892. Grandfather, Major A. Marion Gamble, student probably two years, 1859-1861.

Dorothy Grace Gamble, Freshman, and Joe Caldwell Gamble, Senior. Father, Judge Moses Houston Gamble, L.L.B., student 1888-1898; graduated 1905. Mother, Nannie M. Caldwell Gamble, student five years between 1884 and 1898. Grandfather, William Lowry Caldwell, student six years, probably 1842-1848.

George Gillingham, Senior. Father, Rev. Clinton Hancock Gillingham, D.D., student four years, 1901-1905; graduated 1905. Mother, Nancy Gardner Gillingham, student five years, 1898-1903; graduated 1903.

Ruth Elisabeth Goff, Junior. Father, Rev. Francis Lee Goff, D.D., student three years, 1878-1881.

Elizabeth Griffes, Sophomore. Father, Rev. Amos Arthur Griffes, Ph.D., student two years, 1895-1897; graduated 1897.

Mattie Henry Hale, Sophomore. Mother, Tennie Henry Hale, student one year, 1903-1904.

Martha Etta Henry, Senior. Father, Professor Charles William Henry, student eight years between 1892 and 1901; graduated 1901. Mother, Leola Landon Henry, student one year, 1900-1901.

Emma Grace Howard, Freshman. Father, W. Lee Howard, student, two years, 1890-1892. Mother, Grace Leatherwood Howard, student four years, 1899-1903.

Mary Helen Johnson, Freshman. Father, John Milbon Johnson, student two years, 1890-1892.

Earl Keller, Freshman. Father, John Thomas Keller, student one year, 1890-1891.

Ralph Lawson, Freshman. Father, Donnie Alexander Lawson, student two years, 1892-1894. Mother, Sidney A. Myers Lawson, student two years, 1890-1892.

Katherine Legge, Senior. Father, John Wesley Legge, student two years, 1880-1882.

Chester Lequire, Junior. Father, Dr. Granville Dexter Lequire, (M.D.), student three years between 1898 and 1903.

Mary E. Litterer, Special. Father, Charles Conrad Litterer, student four years, 1895-1899; graduated 1899. Mother, Margaret (Maggie) Emiah Jones Litterer, student seven years, 1892-1899.

Sarah Martha Stanley Lowe, Freshman. Mother, Ida Seaton Stanley, student six years between 1889 and 1896.

Dorothy McCulloch, Freshman, and John Max McCulloch, Sophomore. Father, Dr. John Alexander McCulloch, (M.D.), student four years between 1889 and 1897. Mother, Grace Badgett McCulloch, student three years, 1900-1903.

Myrtis McCulloch, Freshman. Father, James Anderson McCulloch, student three years between 1879 and 1886.

David S. Marston, Freshman, and Mary Ruth Martson, Junior. Father Rev. Charles Marston, student six years, 1887-1893; graduated 1893. Mother, Mary Katherine Caldwell Marston, student four years, 1889-1893; graduated 1893. Grandfather, Capt. D. M. Caldwell, date when in school not known.

Lois Miles, Sophomore, Father, Rev. T. J. Miles, D.D., student nine years between 1883 and 1893; graduated 1893. Mother Euola Mianda Malcolm Miles, student six years, 1885-1891.

Carrie Murray, Senior. Father, Albert Lafayette Murray, student three years between 1882 and 1889. Mother, Mary Hammontree Murray, student one year, 1883-1884.

Elizabeth Newman, Sophomore. Father, Jonathan Houston Newman, student three years, 1893-1896; graduated 1896. Mother, Nellie M. McReynolds Newman, student seven years between 1890 and 1898.

Mary Nuchols, Junior. Father, Thomas Lamar Nuchols, student one year, 1895-1896. Grandmother, Mary Jane Broady Nuchols, student three years, 1870-1873.

Defoe Pemberton, Junior. Father, Haywood K. Pemberton, student one year, 1890-1891.

Jessie Post, Junior, and Mary Post, Senior. Father, Rev. Richard Walker Post, student seven years, 1892-1899; graduated 1899. Mother, Mame Stebbins Post, student four years between 1897 and 1902; graduated 1902.

Lucile Roddy, Sophomore. Mother, Lula Mae Best Roddy. student five years between 1893 and 1901.

Bernice Smith, Sophomore. Father, Paul Lloyd Smith, student three years, 1893-1896.

Thomas Stanley, Freshman. Mother, Ida J. Seaton Stanley, student six years between 1889 and 1896.

Bess Taylor, Senior, and Mildred Taylor, Freshman. Great-grandfather, Dr. Robert Newton Fleming, (M.D.), date when in school not known.

Blanche Ellis Tindell, Freshman. Father, Oliver Temple Tindell, student two years, 1880-1882.

Lutie E. Toole, Freshman. Mother, Mayme E. Gamble Toole, student two years between 1896 and 1899.

Kate Barton Walker, Freshman. Mother, Olga M. Byerley Walker, student one year, 1904-1905.

Charles F. Webb, Junior. Father, Eugene L. Webb, student four years, 1897-1901. Mother, Laura J. Magill Webb, student five years between 1895 and 1901.

Earl Lee Wilkinson, Freshman. Father, Edward Lee Wilkinson, student two years, 1885-1887. Mother, Josephine Tipton Wilkinson, student three years between 1885 and 1889. Grandfather, Edward Scott, Wilkinson, date when in school not known.

Robert S. Welsh, Freshman. Father, Rev. Howard M. Welsh, student seven years; graduated 1899. Mother, Oceola May Walker Welsh student ten years, 1883-1893; graduated 1893.

Kathleen Whitted, Senior, and Thelma Whitted, Senior. Father, John Ollie Whitted, student two years between 1888 and 1891.

2. Faculty Members Who Are Sons and Daughters of Former Students

Miss Mary E. Caldwell, Dean of Women, and Mrs. Emma Caldwell Worley, Matron. Father, William Lowry Caldwell, student six years, probably 1842-1848.

Miss Helen Gamble, B.A., Maryville College, 1920; M.A., Columbia University, 1924; Instructor in Psychology and Education, Maryville College, 1923 to the present. Father, Judge Moses Houston Gamble, I.L.B., student 1888-1898, graduated 1905. Mother, Nannie, M. Caldwell Gamble, student five years between 1881 and 1898. Grandfather, William Lowry Caldwell, student six years, probably, 1842-1848.

Miss Jessie Heron, Ph.B., Wooster College 1911; M.A., Columbia University, 1924; High School Work in Ohio, 1911-1919; Professor of Latin, Maryville College Preparatory School, 1919-1920; Associate Professor of the English Language, Maryville College, 1920 to the present. Father, Rev. David A. Heron, student seven years, 1875-1882; graduated 1882. Mother, Susan Walker Heron, student six years between 1876 and 1883; graduated 1883.

Mr. Wilson McTeer, B.A., Maryville College, 1925; Instructor in Psychology and Education, 1925. Father, Major Will A. McTeer, LL.D., student one year, 1866-1867.

Miss Catherine Wilkinson, B.A., Maryville College, 1919; M.A., Columbia University, 1925; Instructor in French, Maryville College, 1919 to the present. Father, Edward Lee Wilkinson, student two years, 1885-1887. Mother, Josephine Tipton Wilkinson, student three years between 1885 and 1889. Grandfather, Edward Scott Wilkinson, date when in school not known.

3. Faculty Members Who Are Parents of Students or Former Students

Dean Jasper Converse Barnes, B.A., Marietta College, 1890; M.A., Marietta College, 1893; Ph.D., University of Chicago, 1911; Supt. of Schools Belpre, Ohio, 1890-1892; Principal Maryville College Preparatory School and Professor of Science and Art of Teaching, 1892-1901; Professor of Psychology and Education, from 1903 to the present; Dean of Maryville College from 1914 to the present. Father of Mark H. Barnes, student eleven years between 1902 and 1915, graduated 1915.

Professor Horace Lee Ellis, B.A., Maryville College, 1898; M.A., Maryville College, 1910; Professor of Latin, Carson-Newman College, 1907-1914; Dean of Carson-Newman College, 1908-1912; Principal, Maryville College Preparatory School, 1914-1924; Librarian, Maryville College from 1924 to the present. Father of Anne Ellis, student 1920 to the present; Charles Ellis, student nine years, 1914-1923, graduated 1923; and Ruth Ellis, student 1918 to the present.

Rev. Clinton Hancock Gillingham, B.A., Maryville College, 1905; M.A., Maryville College, 1906; B.D., Presbyterian Theological Seminary of Kentucky, 1908; D.D., Maryville College, 1919; Professor of the English Bible, 1907 to the present; Registrar, 1907 to the present. Father of Alice Gillingham, student 1921-1925; and George Gillingham, student 1916 to the present.

Dr. James Henry McMurray, B.A., Oberlin College, 1897; M.A., Harvard University, 1901; Ph.D., James Millikin University, 1908; L.H.D., Lincoln College, 1921; Professor of Science, Central College, Huntington, Indiana, 1897-1902; President of Central College, 1902-1905; President of Lincoln College, 1905-1918; Director of American Red Cross, Camp Taylor, 1918-1920; Professor of Political and Social Science, Maryville College, 1920 to the present. Father of Claire McMurray Howard, student one year, 1920-1921, graduated 1921; Jean McMurray, student four years, between 1920 and 1925, graduated 1925; and Ruth McMurray, student 1921 to the present.

Mrs. Kathryn Romig McMurray, B.S. in Home Economics, Lincoln College, 1908; Lecturer, Illinois Farmers' Institute, 1913-1918; Director of Home Economics, Oberlin College, 1918; Director, Faculty Club and Lecturer on Food Conservation, Oberlin College, 1918-1920; Head of Home Economics Department, Maryville College, 1920 to the present. Mother of Claire McMurray Howard, Jean McMurray, and Ruth McMurray.

Mrs. Mary McDermid Minton, B.A., Ripon College, 1895; Teacher, Ripon Schools, 1895-1897; Missionary Teacher, Mexico City, 1897-1909; Teacher, Union College, 1918-1920; Associate Professor of Spanish, Maryville College, 1921 to the present. Mother of Emily Minton, student 1921 to the present.

Mrs. Lida Pryor Snodgrass, Matron, Mother of Virginia Estelle Snodgrass Proffitt, student five years, 1903-1908; graduated 1908.

Mrs. Nita Eckles West, B.O., Grant University, 1895; Teacher of Expression and Public Speaking, Maryville College, twenty-four years between 1895 and the present. Mother of Bernice Ruth West, student five years, 1917-1922, graduated 1922; and Clyde Eckles West, student seven years between 1909 and 1918.

President Samuel Tyndale Wilson, B.A., Maryville College, 1878; M.A., Maryville College, 1885; D.D., Maryville College, 1894; LL.D., Wooster College, 1918; Graduate of Lane Theological Seminary in 1882, after three years' course, 1879-1882; Ordained to the Presbyterian ministry in August, 1882; Missionary and Professor in Theological Seminary, Mexico City, 1882-1884; Professor of the English Language and Literature and of the Spanish Language, Maryville College, 1884-1915; Librarian, 1885-1898; Registrar, 1891-1898; Dean, 1891-1901; President, 1901 to the present. Father of Ruth Browning Phillips, student, 1901-1909, graduated in 1909; Olive More Murray, student between 1901 and 1913, graduated 1913; Howard Hammington Wilson, student between 1902 and 1915, graduated 1915; Lois Coligny Wilson, student between 1903 and 1916, graduated 1916; Bertha Mary Wilson, student between 1905 and 1918, graduated 1918; and Lamar Silsby Wilson, student between 1910 and 1921, graduated 1921.

REGARDING PAYMENTS DUE ON ATHLETIC FUND PLEDGES

An article appeared in the Saturday Evening Post during the summer that gave some interesting statistics. Among other things, a million dollar college campaign for endowment was mentioned. There were 1,000 contributors with incomes of $10,000 a year or more. Only eight failed to pay their pledges promptly. Nine hundred and ninety-two were not only honest but prompt.

Maryville College does not have 1,000 alumni who have an annual income of $10,000 or more. Some of us may wonder whether there are as many as ten like that.

But one thing is sure: no school can boast an alumni more devoted to the principles of sterling honesty. The Association banked upon that quality when the Alumni Gym was built two years ago without cash actually in hand to pay for it.

The new building was an absolute and immediate necessity. Pledges to cover the amount—and more—were on record in the alumni office. And the Association, the Directors of the College, and those individuals who signed the notes at the bank all said that was sufficient. Those who had pledged would pay. Therefore, the money was borrowed and the work done.

This is an appeal to those who have not paid their pledges to the Alumni and Former Students' Athletic Fund up-to-date to do so. This will clear off indebtedness and make it possible to go on to other greatly needed service in the way of improvements.

Moreover, the men who made themselves personally liable for the obligations of the Association by signing notes for money borrowed ought to be relieved. They have carried the load long enough, and have done it with no expectation of reward. It is not even generally known who they are.

Let's distribute the burden by paying up our part. So we will prove, not only that we are honest—which does not need to be proved—but also that we are prompt—which likewise is a virtue.

WHO'S WHO

Some time ago a request was made that alumni provide the alumni office with a bibliography of their literary productions, and, in cases where it is possible, with copies of these productions. This information was asked for in connection with the effort to secure a Maryville Who's Who. There is just a chance that some alumni have regarded the matter as of no very great importance. But the matter is important and it is hoped that those who have not sent in this information will do so at their earliest convenience.

Whatever books, or published literary articles, are sent in will be properly catalogued and placed in the college library. And a complete record of all that is sent in will be kept on file in the alumni office. These records and literary productions will accumulate value and importance as the years go on, and in time will come to be of very great value indeed to the College and to persons interested in looking into the literary record of those who have gone out from its walls.

This office should have some record of the graduate theses of those who have done post-graduate university work. If a copy cannot be furnished for the library, we should at least know the title of the thesis, the degree in connection with which it was a requirement, and the library where it is to be found. This information will be kept as a part of the record of each of the classes and will be a matter of interest and information. Let's create and maintain a complete Maryville Who's Who.

ALUMNI TO PRESENT THE COLLEGE A PORTRAIT OF DR. WILSON

To those who have known Maryville College during the past twenty-five years it is unthinkable that any student should ever be deprived of the inspiration that students during these years have grown accustomed to look for in the face of Dr. Wilson. And yet, if such a thing is not to come to pass somebody must see to it that a worthy portrait of our president is made.

Dr. Wilson personifies the ideals and traditions of Maryville and for that reason the Alumni Association was quick to approve the suggestion, made at the last annual meeting, that a committee should be appointed to receive funds and provide for the painting of a suitable portrait for presentation to the College by the Association. This suggestion came first from alumni who expressed a desire to make contribution to that end, and already, in spite of the fact that the matter has not been generally announced, some contributions have been received for that purpose.

Undoubtedly there are hundreds of others who will want to have a share in this expression of the love in which Dr. Wilson is held by all his former students. The following committee was appointed to have the matter in charge: Mrs. F. L. Proffitt, '08; Judge M. H. Gamble, '05; and Prof. H. E. Orr, '12.

STUDENT HONOR ROLL Second Semester 1924-1925

There is perhaps no safer way to estimate the character of work being done at Maryville than to make a study of the scholastic records of the students. Such a study of student records, for the second semester of last year has been made and published by the "Highland Echo." The results should, we think, prove highly gratifying to the whole body of alumni and are, therefore, reprinted here.

It should be remembered by those who graduated prior to the inauguration of the Quality Credit System, that under this system no student can graduate from the College whose average grade for the four years is below "C" (75-85). The student who barely passes his work with a grade of "D" (65-75) is finally compelled to drop out. Therefore any student who graduates at all is really entitled to the distinction "pro merito" which he is given, and those who graduate with the rank of "Cum Laude" and, especially, "Magna Cum Laude" have done work of a distinctly superior character.

Out of 616 students in College during the second semester last year, 79 did work of such character as to entitle them to a place on the honor roll with either "Cum Laude" or "Magna Cum Laude" standing. Of these 79 students, 13 graduated, four with "Magna Cum Laude" and nine with "Cum Laude" rank. Of the remaining sixty-six students, twenty-seven were Freshmen, twenty-five were Sophomores, and eleven were Juniors, while three were classed "Special."

The list is given below by classes arranged in alphabetical order, except that the names of those winning the rank of "Magna Cum Laude" in each class are given first.

Seniors

Magna Cum Laude

Clark, Virginia Stone	Stockton, John Robert
Kinsler, Francis	Torrey, Mary Elizabeth

Cum Laude

Bailey, Mary Kathleen	Neal, Emily Josephine
Broady, Robert Alexander	Sharp, Ethel
Higginbotham, Mabel Ruth	Sossomon, Mary Lily
McTeer, Wilson	Winters, Dorothy Brownell
Montgomery, Elizabeth Wynn

Juniors

Magna Cum Laude

Johnson, Charles	Porter, Evelyn
McCulloch, Lois	Thomas, Mary Almeda

Cum Laude

Clopton, Robert	Scales, Vera
Denny, Lucille	Tron, Louise
Gillingham, George	Vanderslice, Ralph
Harrison, Ruby

Sophomores

Magna Cum Laude

Johnson, Julian	Meikle, Paul
Marston, Mary Ruth	Vanderslice, Annie

Cum Laude

Alford, Jeanette	Osterle, Lucille
Boyd, Mariam	Paulsell, Otto
Cofer, James	Pemberton, Defore
Collins, Mary Louise	Philpott, Edith
Farnham, Elizabeth	Post, Jessie
Hoyt, Elizabeth	Richeson, Samuel
Jeffries, Gordon	Rosa, Frank
Laird, Margaretta	Taylor, Roy
McGaw, Ruth	Thompson, Malcolm
Moore, America	Woodall, Estelle
Morris, Joel

Freshmen*Magna Cum Laude*

Clopton, Mary	Creswell, Roberta
---------------	-------------------

Cum Laude

Baird, Louise	Jackson, Lillian
Byars, Turnmire	Knight, Elizabeth
Collie, Berta	Knight, Virginia
Cowan, Ellen	March, Frances
Crow, Elizabeth	Marshall, Gayle
Elmore, Marie	Millsaps, Reba
Ferris, Dorothy	Minton, Emily
Gleason, Elsie	Moore, Sarah
Griffes, Elizabeth	Rodgers, William
Harold, Gordon	Summerville, John
Harrison, Annie	Welbon, Mary Eleanor
Hodges, Dorothy	Wriggins, John
Huffman, Gussie

Specials*Magna Cum Laude*

Barber, Jane

Cum Laude

Gibbons, Evelyn	Van Lopik, Anne
-----------------	-----------------